

GET ORGANIZED ONCE AND FOR ALL

LESSON 6: ACCOUNTABILITY

Well here we are, at the end of our time together learning how to Get Organized Once & For All.

We've talked about:

Lesson One: Working on one small habit every day

Lesson Two: Eating our frog for breakfast each morning

Lesson Three: How to set solid monthly goals

Lesson Four: What to do on the bad days

Lesson Five: How to find more time in our days

If you want a refresher, you can redo any of the lessons from the list above This resource will always be available for you to refer back to at any time!

But there is one last crucial piece that we haven't talked about yet. And that is accountability.

Here's the thing, I've been keeping you accountable. Checking in with each lesson to see if you completed that one habit you've been working on developing, helping you build your knowledge and skills step by step, and more than anything giving you a reminder of the finish line.

Being accountable to and getting support from others is one of the most effective things you can do to ensure success. You don't have to do this alone!

So your last assignment is simple: find a buddy to hold you accountable and set up a regular time to communicate with them about your goals and progress.

Don't know where to look? I'd highly recommend The Sweet Life Society.

The Sweet Life Society is a community of women ready to take control of their lives and their homes. You have never met such a supportive group of people. They're all on this journey with you - making small, consistent progress.

One thing we do in the Sweet Life Society is monthly group challenges. Every woman in the society is invited to participate in improving just one small but impactful area of her home. Sometimes that means decluttering one item a day for a month. Sometimes that means having a clean sink when you head to bed every evening for a week.

The main thing is, we're doing it together. We're making progress, cheering each other on, and holding each other up through our struggles.

I love how Sarie, one of our members, described it - "I feel like you all are family and I've just come home."

That's exactly what it's like in the Sweet Life Society. A family of women, ready to welcome you in and help you along.

And the awesome news is, we're gearing up for a flash sale this coming Monday and Tuesday! Regularly a Sweet Life Society membership costs $29/month, but during our two day sale you can join for just $1 for your first month!

You don't want to miss this.

You can keep up the good work that you've started with the 30 Day Habit Tracker attached to this lesson; it's straight out of the Sweet Life Society and is sure to keep you motivated and on track.
